DOUBLE ELOPEMENT

GLENDALE GIRLS MARRY ARCADIA BALLOON SCHOOL BOYS AT SANTA ANA

For some time Miss Jean, daughter of Abel A. Livingston, of 212 N. Glendale avenue, and Miss Louise Dorothy, daughter of Dr. Howard T. Rand, of 407 East Chestnut, both girls of 16, have been going with Robert J. C. Vaughan and James Edward O'Connor, respectively, young men connected with the Arcadia Balloon School, and both 18 years of age. The parents of the girls thought it was merely friendship which animated the young people and did not dream that they were contemplating matrimony. They were considerably surprised, therefore, when they learned that the young people went to Santa Ana Saturday, and were joined in matrimony. When the girls failed to come home both Sunday and Monday their parents were naturally very uneasy. But all was cleared up Tuesday and after careful consideration the parents decided that there was only one course to pursue and that was to forgive the young people and take the new sons into their hearts. Sergeant Vaughan and Corporal O'Connor have yet seven months to serve at the Balloon School and both will then probably go into business. Sergeant Vaughan's home is in San Francisco and Corporal O'Connor's in Detroit, Mich.

Both the young couples are now living in Monrovia, but will come to Glendale frequently to visit the families of the brides.

FROM THE OLD HOME TOWN

Francis Sullivan, of 711 South Central avenue, was delightfully surprised Sunday when his old friend, Cady Hosley, of Olean, New York, called upon him with the information that he and his parents, his brothers and sisters, had motored to Southern California to make their permanent home in Whittier where his grandfather is mayor. Olean is the old home town of the Sullivans who have been in California only about four months. While they like their adopted home, it seemed very good to them to see a friend from Olean. Miss Eileen E. Sullivan and her brother Robert will leave Thursday morning for La Jolla where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson, of this city, who are spending the summer there.

Mrs. Paul C. Mason and son Lloyd of 229 South Isabel street left Monday night via the Salt Lake for Indiana, Missouri and Ohio points where they will visit friends and relatives. They expect to be gone two months.

HOWARD EHMK STAR TWIRLER

Glendale baseball fans, of whom there are a few, though no High School games were played this summer, are watching with absorbing interest the meteoric career of Howard Ehmk, who used to twirl the sphere on the High School diamond. He is now the mainstay of the Detroit National League team and has pitched some wonderful ball. Tuesday he twirled against Chicago, which is in third place, while his own team is battling desperately to depose Chicago from the leadership and won out in 16 innings.

RESIDENCE CHANGES

J. W. PEARSON GIVES LIST OF PROPERTIES LEASED AND SOLD TO NEW COMERS

James W. Pearson, the real estate operator of East Broadway, gives the following list of changes made through his instrumentality:

Sold 504 Burchett street to William Brinkman, a new comer.

Sold 527 Burchett street to Lawrence Lawson, a son of J. W. Lawson.

Sold bungalow at 1018 East Harvard street to Mr. and Mrs. Allen McDaniel, new comers from Missouri, who have been living at 114 West Broadway. They will take possession right away.

Sold property at 529 Patterson avenue to Mrs. Hunter of Casa Verdugo.

Sold 546 Milford street to C. O. Fry of Deadwood, South Dakota, recently, who made the trip overland by truck.

Leased premises at 329 Milford street, furnished, to A. A. Paoli of the Moreland Truck Co., Burbank.

Leased 336 West Colorado to Mr. Hoxie, a new comer in Glendale.

Leased 321 Pioneer Drive, furnished, to Mrs. Baird, who has been living in the Ingledue apartments.

BACK FROM HONEYMOON

NORMAN OTIS AND HIS BRIDE LOOKING FOR PERMANENT HOME IN GLENDALE

Norman Otis and his bride have returned from their honeymoon and are trying to establish themselves satisfactorily in Glendale. They are temporarily located but are looking for a first-class modern apartment where they can situate themselves permanently and receive their friends. They were married August 15th at the home of the bride who was Miss Glory Emery, of Inglewood. Following the ceremony they went north by train to Lodi, where they visited Mrs. Otis, mother of the groom, going from there by auto to San Francisco. The return trip was made by boat and was of special interest to Mr. Otis because it was over the same course he had covered on a destroyer when he was in the navy, a trip which was made in July, 1918, and which extended through the Panama Canal and the submarine zone on the Atlantic. The temperatures in the Southern waters were so unbearable hot even at night that the gobs slept without covering. He caught cold and after reaching the Atlantic side developed pleurisy which kept him in the hospital for several weeks.

The present visit to San Francisco was also of great interest. He lived there for twelve years and thought he knew the town thoroughly, but the change effected by prohibition has been drastic, he says. "The people are different and the whole atmosphere is different. In the old days San Francisco took a pride in the reputation of being the wickedest city on the Pacific Coast if not in the United States. Booze was its main support. Since it has gone dry the people who used to be the force seem to have lost their pep and are gradually drifting away. Frisco will profit by their absence, but everything is very tame. There is a lot of business however and wages are better in every line, but give me good old Southern California every time. I prefer to live here even if I do not make so much money."

FILM FAVORITES

RUTH ROLAND COMPLETING SERIAL; HELEN MACMULLIN IN REQUEST BY MOVIE MANAGERS

Ruth Roland, the movie actress whom Glendale claims because she has been here so much and has acquired such a large circle of friends here, is just completing a serial written especially for her and entitled "The Adventures of Ruth." It is being produced at her own studio at Main and Washington streets, Los Angeles, and Miss Helen MacMullin, of this city, has quite an important role in it. Miss Roland expects to begin a five-reel production as soon as the "Adventures" are finished and has engaged Miss MacMullin for a part in it.

Glendaleans should be interested in the fact that Miss MacMullin's photograph was selected as one of forty-seven from the thousands who competed in the six months' contest to determine the most beautiful young women in the United States for moving picture work. The contest was limited to young women who have had some experience in filmdom. The purpose of the contest was to obtain a list of valuable talent, and the pictures of the forty-seven have all been published in the movie magazines. The publicity is bearing fruit and Miss MacMullin, according to her father, is receiving letters and business propositions from all over the United States and has even received letters from foreign countries.

An elimination contest will take place in which four will be selected from the fortunate forty-seven and the quartette will be summoned to New York for training with all expenses paid.

DEATH OF MRS. SUSIE VERDUGO ROMERO

Mrs. Susie Romero, nee Verdugo, died Tuesday at her home in Verdugo Canyon. The funeral will be held Thursday at 9 a. m. at Holy Family Catholic Church. Interment will be in the family plot in Calvary Cemetery, Los Angeles. Mrs. Romero was daughter of Fred Verdugo, one of the sons of the original owner of the great Verdugo Ranch of many thousands of acres comprising the lower end of the San Fernando Valley.

Will Richardson accompanied his brother John to the Mount Tamalpais Military Academy at San Rafael, Cal., where he is to be a student the coming year. Will will return in about ten days after having visited the State Fair at Sacramento.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S APPEAL TO PEOPLE

HE WILL DEPEND ON FLAT STATEMENTS OF FACTS RATHER THAN ON ORATORICAL EFFORTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Leaving Washington tonight, President Wilson plans to begin his appeal direct to the people on behalf of the League of Nations. He has not prepared any set addresses and intends to speak from shorthand notes prepared while on the train. He will rely on flat statements of what he considers facts rather than oratorical effort.

He intends to devote most of his attention to the western states and particularly to the Pacific coast where suspicion of Japan and resentment of the Shantung settlement appears to be strongest. He is expected to place much emphasis on the argument that ratification of the treaty is necessary to stop industrial unrest.

INCREASED TENSION ON BORDER

CAPT. McNABB OF AEROPLANE PATROL SHOT FROM MEXICAN SIDE AND SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) LAREDO, Texas, September 3.—The tenseness of the strained relations between the United States and Mexico has been increased by an attack made from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande upon Capt. David W. McNabb of the U. S. aviation corps while patrolling the border in an aeroplane. He was flying slowly and close to the river when a volley of shots was fired at his plane. One of the wings was pierced and Capt. McNabb was wounded near the ear. A report of the attack was made to the commander of the Southern Department at San Antonio, Major General Joseph T. Dickman. No action will be taken here except upon instructions from him.

MEXICANS CHALLENGE FLYER'S POSITION

DECLARE CAPTAIN McNABB WAS ONE KILOMETER OVER THE LINE WHEN ATTACKED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) LAREDO, Texas, September 3.—General Garcia, commanding the Carranza garrison opposite Laredo, declared today that Captain McNabb, whom the Mexicans shot yesterday, was one kilometer across the line in Mexico when attacked. Garcia admitted that soldiers in a Carranza outpost did the shooting.

Col. Buck, the American commander at Laredo, said that he had no instructions to pursue those guilty of the attack.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

REPRESENTATIVES OF CAPITAL AND LABOR TO MEET THERE OCTOBER 5 TO 10

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) WASHINGTON, September 3.—The White House announced today that the round-table conference of capital and labor will be held in the White House between October 5 and 10. About forty labor and industrial leaders and others will attend.

"INSANE INTERNATIONAL POLICY"

SENATOR HITCHCOCK THUS CHARACTERIZES EFFORT TO AMEND THE PEACE TREATY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) WASHINGTON, September 3.—Demanding immediate and unconditional ratification of the peace treaty, Senator Hitchcock, administration spokesman, in an address before the Senate today declared that the amendment of the treaty would constitute an "insane international policy," and denounced those who favor such a course. He declared that amendment would result either in the pugnacious holding of the treaty by the president or its re-submission to the peace conference.

INFLUENZA'S DEATH HARVEST

INSURANCE STATISTICS SHOW TEN PERISHED OF SCOURGE TO ONE SOLDIER KILLED IN ACTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Insurance Press today published figures showing that the American insurance companies met a death rate 32 per cent. greater in 1918 than in 1917. The figures showed that ten persons died of influenza to one American soldier killed in action. The deaths from influenza totaled 500,000.

During the year the insurance companies paid a total of $1,115,000 in insurance. The largest policy was paid on the life of Robert Rowan, of Los Angeles, Cal., amounting to $575,000.

PROCEDURE OF WASHINGTON UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Officials declared today that if it is established that Captain McNabb was flying over Mexican territory when he was shot yesterday, the United States may be unable to proceed against Mexico. They pointed out that during the war the belligerent nations adopted the policy of firing upon foreign aviators who crossed the international boundaries and that there is no other precedent in the case.

U. OF C. COURSES

ENROLLMENT AT NORMAL EXCEEDS PROVISIONS—OVERFLOW GOES TO L. A. HIGH

Donald Cowlin, who was a graduate of Glendale High, was in this city Monday and accompanied Eustace Rowley to the Los Angeles Normal to make arrangements for University of California work, that school having recently been made a branch of the State University at Berkeley. They found that all space at the normal school has been filled and there are accommodations for no more University students. But an overflow course is being established at the Los Angeles High School. The two young men are enrolled, but until assignments are made and the present congestion reduced to order they will not know where they are at or whether they are to take up work at the Normal or the other school. This provision made by the University and the State Legislature for Southern California students has considerably reduced the regular enrollment at Berkeley.

The parents of Donald Cowlin reside in Pasadena, but they formerly lived in Glendale and are considering a return to this city if a house to accommodate them can be found.

Robert Rowley is taking up a course in electrical engineering at Throop College of Technology.

BOYS WILL EXPLAIN

Hubert McCann and Langley Meredith, who were mentioned in Tuesday's Evening News as taking the Watkins automobile from near the Palace Grand Theatre, Saturday night, will make a statement over their signatures in tomorrow's Evening News explaining their connection with the incident. Yesterday's account of the affair should have said that Meredith drove the car instead of McCann.

NOW A CIVILIAN

CHARLES A. NAGEL DISCHARGED FROM ARMY RETURNS TO SERVICE OF GAS COMPANY

Old patrons of the Southern California Gas Company are glad to see again in the office the face of Charles A. Nagel, who has been with the Gas Company for six years but who was away for two years in the service of his country. During that period he had all around experience as he was in the headquarters office for a time and then went over the top with his comrades of the 364th Infantry of the 91st Division in the Argonne, where he was so badly gassed and wounded that he was in the hospital for ten months. For that reason he was not discharged until recently and did not get back to Glendale until about two weeks ago. When he did get home he celebrated by marrying the Los Angeles girl who had been waiting for him and took a wedding trip to the Yosemite. He and his bride are now in an apartment on Glendale avenue, but are planning to buy and build a home here.

The bridegroom is back in the gas office working as if he had never been away and looking as unscarred as though he had been a peaceful civilian all his days.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Mr. Thedaker, local agent of the Southern Pacific, reports that business so far as the operation of freight and passenger trains is concerned is about normal. Good big trains are going out and coming in, but no express has been put on. After the interval in which traffic was suspended residents notice the constant traffic at night and imagine it has been increased but Mr. Thedaker says it is only normal although everybody is busy as can be once more. Relative to local freight he says there was no congestion in his freight room because he told would-be shippers to wait until service should be resumed before attempting to ship.

There has been no recent change in passenger service. The last incoming train to stop here on its way to Los Angeles arrives at 5:35 p. m. and the last out-going train which makes a regular stop arrives at 5:30 p. m. but a 10:35 train going north can be flagged. All other trains must be boarded at Los Angeles.

A peculiar find was made in tearing down an old building in San Bernardino, recently. Joists 3x18 inches were found in the second floor. They were probably sawed from trees cut in the San Bernardino mountains 40 years ago. All were found to be in a fine state of preservation so will remain in the building.

BIRTH REPORTS SHOULD BE PROMPTLY FILED TO COMPLETE STATISTICAL RECORDS

A newspaper published in a small city near Glendale recently sounded the alarm that there were more than 50 children of that municipality who were not legally named because there had been no return made, by physician or midwife officiating at the birth or by the parents, of the blank supplementary to a birth return blank in which no first name is given, in which this information has been set forth. City Clerk Sherer, when asked if a similar condition prevailed in Glendale, replied that it did, but that such neglect did not affect the legality of the first or Christian name given by the parents. The law provides that within 36 hours after the birth of a child the officiating physician or midwife must file with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred; a certificate setting forth the facts, and that when such certificate is presented without the statement of the given name of the child, then a special blank shall be filled out and sent to the parents to be filled out with the name chosen. But no statement is made in the law that neglect in returning such report deprives the child of a legal name. It is very necessary, however, that such blanks be promptly filled out and returned, in order that the vital statistics of city, county, state and nation be carefully tabulated and kept on file.

MORE HOLIDAYS ARE COMING

Glendale residents who were in business back east, have dismal remembrances of the holiday times in their day, when it was thought impossible for a grocery store, meat market, dry goods store, or, in fact, any line of business to close on any holiday unless perhaps for two hours on Thanksgiving and Decoration Days. It is certainly a pleasant change for the California business man who remembers his holiday experience in the "back home" days to know that out here holidays are such to the business man as well as to others. No one was really discommoded by the two days' closing of stores this week. And most of the householders are exceedingly glad that tired business men and their employes can have this long rest occasionally. The time is evidently not far distant, in California at least, when all the business houses will give two half holidays a week, Wednesday and Saturday, in addition to the regular days set apart.

WOULD CHRIST STRIKE?

REV. E. H. WILLISFORD SEES RAINBOW ACROSS CLOUD BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR

Although it was at the tag end of the vacation period and Labor Day only a few hours away, taking many away for a few more days of rest, a most representative and interested audience greeted Dr. Willisford Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church, on the return from his vacation.

The speaker had chosen for the sermon theme the striking topic, "Would Jesus Christ Strike?" Before the sermon there was an expectant and inquisitive atmosphere which an auditor could sense.

Was the preacher going to "blow up," was he going to talk like some fellows from Russia, was he going to "dig into" certain types of laborers? The speaker had spoken but a very few minutes when it was evident that he had not only himself, but his address well in hand, that he had thought clear through his theme, that he had reached some very definite, constructive conclusions.

As the sermon was given extempore only a few fagots can here be given. The passage of scripture which served as a basis for at least a part of the discourse was John 7:1, "for He (Jesus) would not walk in Judea, because the Jews sought to kill him."

"Would Jesus Christ Strike?" Two answers might be given, two answers are given. Each diametrically the opposite of the other. The one "Yes," the other "No."

What is a strike? A protest. Why do men strike? Because they feel that conditions are wrong, unbearable, unjust. In striking, the striker may be right or he may be wrong in his thinking.

"Would Jesus Christ Strike?" What does the text state? "For He would not walk in Judea." That is Jesus Christ struck. He walked out. He no longer preached, and taught

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1919

BERKELEY IS OVERRUN WITH STUDENTS

In whatever other respects the great war may have jarred California out of normality, it has not quenched the thirst of its young people for higher education. The University of California is positively embarrassed by the unprecedentedly large number of students enrolled for the coming year. The enrollment is more than 8,000 and the situation is so unusual, the board of regents has been summoned to consider ways and means for caring for a scholastic population so large. Plans for dividing classes into smaller units and employing additional instructors are under consideration. Evening and Saturday afternoon courses may have to be instituted to accommodate all the students.

A very, very wholesome and inspiring situation is this. It shows that the youths of today are not sloppily frivolous and indifferent to intellectual development. It indicates a general realization of the fact that education, in these progressive, modern times, is essential to any conspicuous measure of success in life.—Pasadena Star-News.

CANNERY WASTES

The disposal of the wastes incidental to canning processes has always constituted a very considerable item of expense which of course it was necessary to add to the cost of the finished product. While this loss has not been entirely done away with, it has, through scientific studies of chemists and engineers been considerably reduced.

For example, the trimmings from spinach formerly thrown away as of no account are now recognized as of superior value for stock and hog feeding. Hog farms have been started in many localities owing to the availability of abundant supplies of spinach trimmings for silage—for the trimmings when mixed with a small amount of straw make excellent ensilage.

Apricot pits now find a ready market for shipment abroad where they are cracked and the kernels and shells worked up into several products, including cosmetics, confectioners' pastes and so on.

Peach pits are likewise disposed of; edible oils being made from the kernels and the shells used for fuel. During the war fruit pits were extensively used for making charcoal for gas masks.

Sliced Hawaiian pineapple cores, once considered as more or less a nuisance, are being used in steadily increasing quantities by manufacturing confectioners; usually as a filler in chocolates, as well as being cut up into various shapes and then covered with a coating made from sugar or chocolate.

Experiments have been made with asparagus butts with the object of developing some commercial use for them. Their structure and composition suggests the possibility of their use in paper manufacturing or in explosives.

And so on, down the long list of cannery products. Every new use found for the so-called waste exerts a stabilizing influence on the price of the principal product, tending to keep its price within reach of all classes of the consuming public besides encouraging the growth of collateral industries.

ANZAC SACRED WORD

American business houses have been requested to refrain from commercializing the word "Anzac," under which magic name the troops of the British colonies fought themselves to imperishable glory during the war. The request is not an unreasonable one. It ought to be and probably will be respected.

When the troops from New Zealand and Australia gathered at Gallipoli to rip the Turk from Europe they first faced the need of a label which would identify them promptly. It came in "Anzac." Though their expedition failed, it was not from lack of gallantry, heroism or sacrifice. These lads from the other side of the world set a new record for daring and dash, giving lives by the wholesale that their purpose might be accomplished.

Naturally, the term "Anzac" suggests many tender memories and a veneration nearly sacred to these survivors and their friends. How inconsiderate then to make use of this honored name in boosting balbriggans, canned corn or glue. American and other business men surely will not deny the request.—San Bernardino Sun.

REAP AS YOU SOW

You may take the world as it comes and goes,

And you will be sure to find

That fate will square the accounts she owes,

Whoever comes out behind;

And all things bad that a man has done,

By whatsoever induced,

Return at last to him, one by one,

As the chickens come home to roost.

So as you will, there's a time to reap,

For the good and the bad as well,

And conscience, whether we wake or sleep,

Is either a Heaven or Hell,

For every wrong will find a place,

And every passion loosed,

Drifts back and meets you face to face,

When the chickens come home to roost.

How little it costs if we give it a thought,

To make happy some heart each day!

Just one kind word or a tender smile,

As we go on our daily way.

It costs so little I wonder why

We give it so little thought;

A smile—kind words—a glance—a touch—

What magic with them is wrought.

F. BOOTH,

Sept. 2, 1919.

THE BUSY ANTS

are to be admired for their wonderful organization and tireless industry, but when they get busy in the garden or lawn they become sources of annoyance that cannot be tolerated.

Government authorities have experimented in the preparation of a formula to annihilate these little armies of pests and have perfected a method that will completely clear a garden of them.

Put a small quantity of a solution made of sodium arsenite, tartaric acid, sugar, honey, and water in tin cans with the lids only partially cut out, which prevents access other than by insects, and place a number of these cans so prepared around your lot and gardens.

This mixture as recommended by the Government is a weak poison, and while not causing ants to die at once, it is carried to the larvae and in time exterminates the whole colony.

Another effective manner to use is by preparing small cloth bags, dipping them in melted paraffine and puncturing several holes with a hat pin, filling with the mixture and hanging in trees.

We prepare this formula, both in a concentrated solution to be added to sugar and water, also finished ready to use.

GENERAL FRUITS

Prices on all grades of fruits are materially higher than in pre-war seasons, consistent with other foods, their increased production cost, and the abnormal demand. Relatively, therefore, the present cost to the consumer on the high grade fruits does not show nearly as large a price premium in comparison with the value of lower grades, as heretofore; and, in some instances, there will be practically no difference between the retail price of these higher grades and that of Extra Choice or Choice stock.—The Lug Box.

the last of the week.W. R. Phelon, Glendale manager of the Southern California Gas Company, is moving from 330 Vine street to 401 West Elk avenue.Mrs. E. V. Bacon, of South San Fernando Road, who has been spending the summer in Redondo, is at home again. Her daughter Regina is at Lake Tahoe.Mrs. Ralph W. Meeker of East Colorado street had the pleasure of entertaining for the week-end, Mrs. George Cheney, wife of the manager of Coronado Tent City, San Diego,
who left for the southern beach Monday night.Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Hanger of 337 Ivy street, who are comparatively new comers in Glendale, leave today for a two weeks' outing at the beaches. Mr. Hanger is assisting Mr. Von Oven in the management of the Y. M.
C. A. Hotel.Mrs. Wilbur Francy left Monday for the east where she will visit the sister and brother-in-law of her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shelton, in Chicago. She will also visit her own people and friends in West Point, Iowa, and will be gone about two months.Linn L. Perrin, formerly cashier of the Southern California Gas Company, with his wife and family, has just returned from a vacation at Santa Barbara. He is taking Mr. Kimball's place with the company as outside salesman.Mrs. Maude Shugart Goewey, of 222 North Belmont avenue, who was taken sick five weeks ago, is still in a serious condition. Mrs. Goewey is with her brother, J. L. Shugart, of 284 Euclid avenue, Long Beach, and it may be some time before she can return to Glendale.Miss Callie Porter, of West Harvard street, had a pleasant outing Labor Day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bixby, of Los Angeles. They drove to Sierra Madre Canyon where they had a picnic lunch and then to Monrovia Canyon where they spent the afternoon.Attorney and Mrs. James F. Mc-Bryde, with Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Mc-Bryde, Mrs. S. J. Mosher and Miss Ella Mosher of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Carter and son Howard of Pomona, spent the Labor Day vacation days in Santa Barbara. They report a delightful trip.Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Von Oven returned Sunday night from Catalina where they have been spending two weeks. Mr. Von Oven is manager of the Y. M. C. A. Hotel in Los Angeles and is quite impressed with the great need in Glendale for an up-to-date apartment house with cafe accommodations.Glendale residents were forced this week to comply with the dictum of most doctors that fresh light bread should not be eaten, for, with the bakeries all closed on Labor Day, Saturday's bread had to be used for Monday's meals. Army authorities will not allow bread served to soldiers until it is at least two days old and frequently they do not get it until it has been baked many days—
even weeks.Mrs. F. O. Heebing, of Los Angeles, was in Glendale Tuesday to see about getting a load of household goods moved back to the city from the home at 522 Oak street. They had started to move out here, when Mr. Heebing was employed as a motorman for the L. A. Railway Co., so they had to remain in the city. She rented the house while she was out here.The Pasadena Evening Post, the second newspaper in the Crown City field, began publication Monday, Labor Day, with a 20-page issue, under the management of F. W. Kellogg, business manager of the Los Angeles Express. Fred Runyon is managing editor. From its initial issue, one would judge the new paper to be alive to Pasadena's needs, the policy of the Post being devoted to community interest first. It strongly advocates "trading at home" and the linking of community interests of Los Angeles' eastern suburbs with a view of upbuilding the individual centers of population.Frank Taylor and three daughters, Ollie, Margaret and Catherine, have returned to their home at 600 South Central avenue from their outing at Long Beach.Mary Sue Burks, sister of Mrs. J.
E. Walker, of Glendale, passed away at Clara Barton Hospital following appendicitis operation September 2d.
The remains are at the parlors of L. G. Scovron Co., awaiting funeral arrangements.W. M. Theobald and family, who were living in the Oak street property, have moved down on Acacia.

KEEP BUSINESS GOING

It should be the desire of everybody to keep business moving. Do not block the wheels of progress.
Never be a quitter. If it becomes necessary to quit one job, get another at once. Idleness grows as it is indulged in. The old schoolmasters used to tell the boys leaving school and going out into the world to take up life's work, "Boys, do something,"
and the old schoolmaster would repeat, "Boys, do something." Why not obey the schoolmaster's advice?

SOME FINE PEACHES

Sylvester Hendrix, who came here from Wichita, Kansas, and bought the Hartley place at 1306 E. Broadway some months ago, is just now in the midst of his fruit picking. The place is bountifully supplied with fruit and Mr. Hendrix is now picking his Orange Clings, of which he has a dozen trees, and some of the fruit is extra large, measuring nearly 12 inches in circumference. Mr. Hen-drich was originally a farmer and he takes great delight in cultivating his little farm and working among the fruit trees.TO REORGANIZE COMMUNITY SINGAlexander Mitchell, manager of Glendale's Community Sing, is happy to announce that Prof. Kirchoffer will be in Glendale Thursday evening to meet everybody who ever took part in the Sings or wants to take part in the future, at the High School auditorium, with a view to organizing for the coming season.DIED FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO COLLISIONCharles B. Wade, of Burbank, who was run into by a truck at that city five weeks ago, passed away at the Burbank Hospital as a result of his injuries. He leaves to mourn his loss a cousin, Mrs. Lebina Greely, and many friends. Funeral services will be held from his residence, Sixth and Walnut streets, Sept. 4th, at 2 p. m.
Interment will be in Grand View Cemetery, the L. G. Scovron Company in charge.

THE RAGTIME TEA

Mrs. Rastus Rainbow's Ragtime
Tea, the colored minstrel show to be given by the women of Glendale in order to secure funds for the Community Sing, is swinging merrily along through rehearsals. There is no doubt it will be a night of jollification.
All lovers of a good time and friends of the "Sing" are urged to keep the date in mind, September 12th, at 8 p. m. Tickets are now on sale.WEATHER FORECAST—Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.NOTICE—I will not be responsible for any debts made by my wife from this date, the 2d of Sept., 1919.
Joseph Kucera.In addition to the regular Church
Night supper and committee meetings at Central Christian tonight, the regular prayer meeting will be held with Mrs. Blanche Nunn as leader. Part of the time will be taken by Prof. F.
W. Lough, of Pasadena, a noted Prohibition worker who is now campaigning against the cigarette evil.
It is hoped that a large crowd will be out to hear him at 8 o'clock this evening.

DIES IN OLD FRIEND'S HOME

Wm. H. Drake, of 142 South Belmont, died August 31st, at the home of his old friend, Dr. Hunt. They were friends in early youth and later were elders in the same church in an eastern city. He had been a practicing attorney in Los Angeles for three years past, but a cancerous affection fastened upon him some months ago and he failed very rapidly. He had been in Glendale with Dr. Hunt for just 12 days when death claimed him.
He leaves one brother in Long Beach and another in the East. He was never married. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at three o'clock at the Pulliam Undertaking Company parlors. Interment will be in Grand View cemetery.HOTELS TO BE LINKED BY AERO-PLANE SERVICETwo big hotels under the same management, one at Pasadena and the other at Santa Barbara, are soon to have regular daily communication nouncement.

BACK TO OIL FIELDS

WALLACE CRAMER GLADLY EX-CHANGES ARMY LIFE FOR CIVILIAN PURSUITSWallace Cramer of 631 East Acacia, who was recently discharged from the famous Fighting Third Division, after 10 months' service in the U. S. and 18 months abroad, goes up to Taft tomorrow to take up his old job with the Standard Oil Company.
Wallace was in the Argonne fight and later with the Army of Occupation in a little town near Coblenz. He says the Germans were very pleasant and eager to please their conquerors, but exceedingly bitter against the German war lords who had stripped them of their money, jewelry and supplies of all kinds to sustain the army. They were left in peace, however, after the fighting men of the community had been taken away to swell the ranks of the Huns, so their country prospered greatly under the care of the women. It is now a veritable garden spot, Wallace says, with every foot of the soil under intensive cultivation. Some of the grandest scenery in the world is along the Rhine, Wallace says, and the main roads of both Germany and France far surpass even California's famous highways. He declares that many American soldiers married German girls and told of four such couples stopping at a Paris hotel on their way to the port of embarkation. As soon as the French waiters, who were all girls, learned of the presence of the German brides, not one of them would serve the party. After that incident American soldiers with German wives were not allowed to stop in Paris, but were hurried forward to embarkation ports. Wallace is exceedingly glad to be out of the army and again in civil life.

CALL ONLY GOD GOOD

"Why callest thou me good, there is none good but one, that is God." Matthew 19:17.Call only God good. 'Tis He Who gives the light of life, lost
In the blindness of the soul
On evil's dread breakers tossed.When we in our hearts' duty Aid e'en the least of His own,
'Tis His gift to us to give,
His love in our spirits shown.God is the Spirit of Good.
In Him are we united,
In His Good universal
The wrongs of life are righted.—Francis Lee Chauvan.

GODDARD-OLIVER

Simplicity characterized the wedding of Miss Gladys May Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Goddard, of 517 West Park avenue, and Robert A. Oliver, which was solemnized at the Central Christian Church of Glendale this (Wednesday) morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Clifford Cole officiated and only relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride was attired in white and carried bride roses. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gladys Goddard, as matron of honor, the groom being attended by his friend and business associate, Fred Wilkinson. Following the ceremony the young people left for a month's honeymoon in the north and on their return will make their home in Glendale. Mrs. Oliver was graduated from Glendale High with the class of 1912 and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. Oliver has been a resident of the city for more than six years and is the head of the Oliver Publishing Company.

Why did Jesus Christ strike, walk out? Because "the Jews sought to kill Him." Conditions became unbearable. His life was endangered.

"Would Jesus Christ strike?" Not if babies would suffer, not if the milk supply would be cut off, not if helpless cattle would perish, not if a great multitude of folks would be damaged. If conditions were unreasonable and redress or improvement could not be otherwise obtained I believe that the Master would strike. But if He did we cannot think of Him throwing the monkey wrench into the machinery or causing damage to property or life. He came to save, to give life and life abundantly.

MASTER-WORKMAN

Jesus Christ was the world's master workman. Never has believer, unbeliever, bond or free, Greek or Barbarian, ever thought of Jesus as otherwise. Tradition relates how as a youth and young man He toiled in the carpenter's shop at Nazareth. From the first break of day until the last shadows passed away He toiled. The revealed word tells how the Master labored. Only three years of public ministry; yet see what He did, what He accomplished! Those were tremendously busy years, preaching, teaching, healing. One time He declared: "My Father worketh even unto now and I work."

ALL IS NOT WELL

One cannot read history with an open mind without being impressed with the fact that labor has ever had the heavy end of the load to carry. Labor also has committed its sins.

The possession of wealth has ever procured immunity and privilege. Read my book on "Some Aspects of the Social Power of Wealth." The recital of a rather simple incident indicated something the speaker had in mind:

Bill Jones of Alley L commits an offense, he violates some ordinance, regulation or law, he is arrested by the hand of the law and the hand is not very gentle. He is taken before the court, being financially embarrassed he is committed to the jail till ten o'clock tomorrow morning. William Jones of the boulevard commits the same offense, violates the same ordinance or law. To him the court says: "Released on your own recognizance, appear at ten o'clock tomorrow." Mr. Jones goes home to his couch of down, Bill goes to a bunk and livestock. At court Mr. Jones will be represented by lawyers and if necessary by more lawyers. Postponements and demurrers may multiply. To Bill Jones the court says $30 or 30 days. Bill not being a financier goes to durance vile for a month.

Too many of our laws in their application are a farce and in their execution a tragedy. A case should be tried and determined solely upon its merits. The American Bar Association is making a most commendable effort to secure much needed reforms in jurisprudence.

IS THERE A DIFFERENCE?

Personally I fail to see any economic or ethical difference between a group of workmen getting together and deciding that the day's wage shall be $8.00 for eight hours' work and a group of men representing the leading newspapers of San Francisco getting together and deciding that the advertising rate shall be 14, 15 and 17 cents per line. I do not profess to say that the acts of either or both of these groups are right or wrong.

A RAINBOW IS SEEN

A better day is at hand, the rainbow of deliverance is seen across the black clouds of struggle. Those mighty giants, Labor and Capital, are yet to be brothers. Soon they will run together. Their interests are one.

Neither abstract theology, nor academic philosophy, nor mathematical economics, nor ranting agitators will solve the problems. It takes the spirit of tolerance, the spirit of a square deal, the spirit of love, of justice, the spirit of the Master, which is the spirit of love. That spirit as never before is taking hold of the minds and hearts of men.

The church is no longer indifferent. Great denominations have promulgated their social and industrial programs, programs that are receiving the hearty approval of Capital and Labor. The Congregational papers are devoting pages at this time to the consideration of industrial problems. I still believe in the Bible, in Man, in Christ and in God. Let us be brethren.
